10:30 AM – IN-PERSON AND ON ZOOM Palm Sunday, in this story told by the author of Luke's gospel, Jesus enters triumphantly into Jerusalem with an impromptu parade and shouts of acclamation. This is very much a protest march in that they are proclaiming Jesus blessed, anointed, and even king which is over and against the Roman empire and its governor. When Jesus is told to keep the crowd quiet and under control, he responds that in this moment, if the crowd were silent, earth would rise up to shout its praise and resistance. You can join us on Zoom. We also have communion

10:30 AM – IN-PERSON AND ON ZOOM Easter Sunday, in our day and age with science and medicine and gene therapy, is a story of someone coming back from the dead an idle tale? In a day and age of fake news and verifiable facts (if you choose to pay attention) can we find the myth, the metaphor, or the wonder of such a story about resurrection? In our day and age where life on earth is dying, where is there hope? You can join us on Zoom.
